SPELLING TOOTHY

Each child needs a partner, Toothy mat, marker, and spelling list. One student is the “teacher” and the other student is the “student”. The “teacher” then tells their partner to spell a word. If they can spell it correctly, they get to add a tooth to Toothy’s mouth. If the word is spelled incorrectly, the “teacher” spells it for their partner and then the “teacher” gets to draw the tooth. When the entire list of spelling words is spelled correctly, the partners then switch roles.

CRACK THE CODE

Print the code key on a separate sheet of paper and laminate for durability if you wish. Students choose ten words from their spelling list and write it on the left side of the page (found after the code key). Student then draws the sketch on the right side of the paper to match each letter in the spelling word found on the left. Last, student folds the paper in half and finds a partner to figure out the words just by seeing the pictures/code. The “guesser” can write the words on a piece of paper or say the word aloud.
